ROYAL BOXERS.

The story is that the peppery temper of Queen Victoria is getting intensified as also grows older. The last piece of gos- lowest in point of rank, of any order of the smaller affairs of life claim our attention; tip is, that she boxed the ears of a Maid Honor for flirting with Albert. History will record that the two great Queens of England were both boxers. Queen Bess boxed the ears of her lovers; Queen Victoria boxes those of her rivals.

In one of Caroline Gilman's romances, (library copy) this passage was marked and much thumbed:

There is no object so beautiful to me as a conscientious young man—I watch him as I do a star in heaven. "That's my view-exactly?" sighed Miss Josephine Hoops, as she laid down the volume; "In fact I think there is nothing so beautiful as a young man, even if he ain't conscientious." ed tol han One Horse Novel.

Violetta started convulsively, and turn-ed her tear-drouched eyes widely upon the speaker; for to her, there seemed some-thing familiar in those, low rich tones. Their eyes met; his beaming with love and tenderness—hers gleaming with wide uncertainty? 1 8 700 1 8020 1/2
